8 Experts (their names have been changed to protect their families) were asked to pick their 4 favourite teams. Numbers from 4 to 1 were assigned to their picks.

Their number 1 pick received 4 points, their number 2 received 3 points, etc.

These points were added to come up with the overall favourites.

Big Tip: The favourites seldom win. Look for big payoffs from the long shots.

Tip sheet

Pierre Cadorette : Pierre thinks he has a real chance to win. Then again, Pierre thinks the Canadiens will win baseball's World Series this year.

Sophie Belanger : For this team to win it all, they would need more breaks than you have in a government job.

Dave Dubeau : There have been a lot of disasters this year with storms, floods and massacres. Just add this team to the list.

Adam Cartwright : Adam says he plans to emphasize teamwork. That way he won't have to take the blame for losing all by himself.

Jeff Cohen : This skip once wrote a book on How to Win in Curling. Where can you find this book? Look in the library under fiction.

Russ Haliburton : Lots of experience. They have been there and done that. Too bad they can't remember where they were and what they did.

Alex Hall : Lots of good vides coming this team's way. However, sometimes when everything is coming your way, you're in the wrong lane.

Steve Holdaway : Steve: "What do you think of my team?" Curling Expert: "It could be worse." Steve "I resent that."
Curling Expert: "OK. It couldn't be worse."

Howie Myers: 50% of the people say this is a bad team. The other 50% say this is not a good team. Hard to decide into which category they fit.

Marc Phillion: This is the second best team in the draw. The other 11 are tied for first place.

Rob Phillion : This skip is confident his team can win it all. As Mark Twain once said, "Denial ain't just a river in Egypt."

Mark Watson : Mark has won this competition a number of times. You can count on his team being there on the final night.....sitting with us behind the glass.
